Faculty OK's Democratic Club At UK

Reverses Decision, GOP Club Will Also Be Legalized

The University faculty Monday partially reversed its stand on campus political clubs and approved the petition of a Young Democratic Club for recognition.

Some time ago the faculty had indirectly turned down the group's request for recognition by passing a resolution saying no political group would be recognized here.

Monday's action was only to approve the Democrat club and not to give blanket recognition to all political clubs. A spokesman for the faculty said each petition for recognition would be considered individually.

Campus Republican leaders have sponsored a GOP club and spokesmen said steps soon would be taken to make it legal on campus.

The Democratic Club is headed by Thomas C. Carroll of the Law College.

He issued a statement saying: "Students here are gratified at the action of the faculty in recognizing the organization of the club. It is felt that such organizations will be of real value to the University and the state through the stimulation of interest in practical political activities."

Carroll said the purpose of the club will be to encourage registration among the students for voting, to encourage absentee voting and student discussions of political questions.

He emphasized that the club would not in any of its activities intentionally create an impression that it represents the University or that the University approves of the club's views.

Other officers of the club include Tom Underwood Jr., Jennings Kearby, Judy Keen Johnson and Elizabeth Bicknell, vice presidents, Joyce Anne Harris, secretary, Robert Babbage, treasurer, and Professors Paul Oberst and Elvis J. Stahl of the College of Law, faculty advisors.

$200 Scholarship Offered By Lances

There must be some junior man who could use a $200 scholarship. The members of Lances, junior men's leadership society, are beginning to think there isn't. Two weeks ago they offered, through the Kernel, a $200 award to a worthy man who would meet certain qualifications. No one applied.

The offer is still on, however, according to Roy Wallace, Lances president. Deadline for applying has been extended to April 20.

Dr. Clark To Teach This Summer Abroad

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the History Department, will leave for Austria about July 13, to teach at the Salzburg Seminar in American Civilization.

The school is sponsored by the Harvard University Student Council and will be attended by people from various European countries, many of whom are training for the teaching profession.

Planning committee for Stars In The Night, women's honors day, are left to right, Mrs. Dorothy Evans, campus social chairman, Georgia Portmann, chairman of stage design, Helen Hutchcraft, president of the Women's Administrative Council, Garnett Gayle, publicity chairman, and Anita Levy, chairman of the invitation committee.

Dick Mayes Named Director Of '48 May Day Program

Dick Mayes, Lexington commerce sophomore, has been named director of the 1948 May Day Parade and Program.

Mayes announced this week the names of the committees, their chairmen, and the members of each. Members of the committees will include both active Suky personnel and tryouts.

All sororities presenting floats in the parade will use as a theme the traditions of the Old South. Fraternities will fashion their floats to represent historical events of the United States.

Suky's selection of candidates for Queen committee has released the names of 18 girls as nominations for the Suky May Day Queen. Of these 18, a student vote on April 27, will cut the number to nine with the announcement, crowning and reigning of the queen to come on May Day, for which a definite date has yet to be set.

May queen candidates who have been nominated by campus groups are:

Independents: Joan Rehm, Mary Jo Ridley, and Sylvia Smith. Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority: Lynde Gooding, Sue Allen, Mary Pribble, and Fory Kirkpatrick. Delta Delta Delta sorority: Frances White, Nell Payne, and Priscilla McVey.

Verdi Requiem Praised By Music Lovers, Critics

Critics and music lovers this week were singing the praises of the University's mixed chorus and symphony orchestra after its excellent performance of Verdi's mighty Requiem in Memorial Hall Sunday.

The auditorium was packed for both the afternoon and evening performances and many more persons heard the program on radio broadcasts.

The Requiem was presented in its entirety with the chorus singing in Latin. The young voices of the well trained chorus blended beautifully in the a cappella passages and the accompanying voice of the soloists.

G. C. Dickerson, writing in the Lexington Leader said of the program that "it was a notable personal triumph for Dr. Alexander Capurso, who merged the chorus and orchestra into a great volume of harmony."

Dr. Capurso who heads the University Music Department conducted the chorus and orchestra in Sunday's performances which are the high spots of the department's Sunday afternoon musicales.

The choral voices reflected credit on the preparation given under the direction of Miss Mildred S. Lewis and Almo Kiviniemi of the music faculty.

The four solo voices were excellent. Ruth Pinnell, soprano, gave a distinguished performance in the difficult arias that demanded sustained high notes that sounded over the full power of the large orchestra. Jean Kesler, mezzo-soprano, displayed talent in her solo passages which frequently were long and difficult. Kiviniemi stood out in giving the tenor arias and the baritone role was well done by Gentry Shelton whose voice was resonant and powerful.

Mr. Dickerson said in his review: "While the Requiem was at first considered above the capabilities of an orchestra composed mainly of amateurs, it developed into a first-rate symphonic group with the aid of Dr. Capurso's conductorial training."

"The two performances were marked by a high standard of musicianship that is difficult to describe in a review."

Louisville Times Editor To Speak On Culture

The conference, with "Foreign Languages for Enlightenment" as its theme, will be directed by Dr. Jonah W. D. Skiles, head of the Department of Ancient Languages. Associate directors are Dr. Adolph Bigge, head of the German department, and Dr. L. Hobart Reiland, head of the Department of Romance Languages.

Principal speeches, Dr. Skiles said, will be made by Dr. W. S. Webb on "The Prehistory of Kentucky" at 7:45 p. m., Thursday in Memorial Hall; Dr. James B. ## Fire Causes $2500 Damage

Damage caused by fire in the Biological Sciences storeroom Sunday totaled $2500, according to Frank D. Peterson, University Comptroller. The fire, he said, was caused by spontaneous combustion.

The estimate included office supplies, janitorial supplies, electrical equipment and other materials, as well as all physical damage to the building and its contents, Mr. Peterson said.

The storeroom in which the fire started received the greatest amount of damage. The art gallery, library and Keeneland Foundation Electron Microscope Laboratories, located next door to the storeroom, were not damaged. The basement floor rooms sustained minor damage from smoke.

Pershing Rifles, Crack Drill Group, Initiates 44

Forty-four basic ROTC members were initiated into Pershing Rifles Company C-1, crack military drill outfit, in an impressive ceremony early last Sunday morning by Captain Carl S. Corbin, company commander, after an over-night camp on the banks of the Kentucky river. Actual initiation was held on the camp site with other company officers taking part.

Among the more outstanding 15 alumni members, who attended the camp along with 30 active members, were Col. G. P. Lerner, present faculty advisor, Col. John L. Carter, last year's faculty advisor, Sgts. C. M. Ferguson and E. B. Raber, of present military staff, Fred Nelson alumni member from Western State Teachers College, Elbert A. Cheek 1947 commanding officers, Clayton Cruise, company captain in 1940. The camp group left Lexington at 1 o'clock on Saturday afternoon with the pledges finishing the eight-mile trip from Versailles to the camp by foot. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in shooting across the Kentucky river and playing ball games. The pledges served chow to the actives and each man to be initiated was assigned as an orderly for a 12-hour period to each active member or alumni member.

Working on three shifts, with 11 men to a shift and the remainder assigned to KP, the pledges stood guard duty at the camp for two and one hour periods. When not on guard duty the prospective initiates spent their time serving as orderlies or keeping the actives and alumni properly entertained. The company tradition that no man leaves camp with his piece, which was a broad handle, was not broken as several of the active members visited the guard post periodically and relieved, either by force or otherwise, the sentinels of their weapons, which in turn were broken in two.

The group of pledges, one of the largest in Company C-1 history, went through a five-day session of "Courtney Week" on the campus before becoming eligible to attend the camp.

The following men from Lexington were initiated: Earl E. Caudill, Kenneth O.H. Fafau, Oscar H. Gerald, Alfred J. Graves, William D. Grote, Elbert E. Harber, William H. Helms, Archie L. Howard, Gordon R. Marsh, Tommy J. McCrystal, Jerome Ferlmutter, Herman D. Regan, William M. Sharp, Henry W. Simpson, Donald W. Stanfill, Robert P. Swieterman, Guy E. Weeks, and Daniel C. Webster. From Louisville: Donald K. Graham, Joseph W. Kilroy, Franklin J. Knoop, and Robert W. Seacore.

Out of state: Eugene V. Elder and Harold J. Jones, New York City; William H. Burks, Border, Texas; Ronald C. Dorfman, Queen Village, N.Y.; Albert R. Mander, Allison Park, Penn.; and Edward M. Pullen Jr., New Conaon, Conn.

From Hopkinsville: Frank H. Bassett III, Edward M. Coffman, William B. Gaines, Hickman; Bentley D. Amberg, Danville; George T. Burke; Sinal; Dan J. Case; Junction City: David W. Catron; and David: Donald J. Crain.

Post Office Traffic Jam

Each Friday morning during the ten minute "breaks" between classes the University post office in McVey basement is a scene of chaos and confusion. Few students can push their way in to finally reach their boxes and then stagger out along with the throng without mingled feelings of hate and disgust.

The situation would be alleviated somewhat if students could get their kernels at staggered intervals during the day and then, after picking them up, leave the post office immediately instead of loitering around and obstructing traffic.

Each student must remember that he is one in over 7000. He's not the only one who wants to go into the postoffice and get his copy of the Kernel.

UK Adopts 'New Look' In Extreme

University students have adopted the "new look" to an extreme, according to a "Mademoiselle" staff member who visited the campus recently.

Betty Claire Schmid, the magazine's campus reporter, concluded a tour of twenty Southern campuses with her visit here. In comparing Kentucky with the other schools she has visited this year, Miss Schmid was particularly impressed with the absence of sloppiness on campus for both women and men. On many of the other campuses, she said that loose sweaters and shorter skirts are still popular. She also observed that men here dress better than at the average school.

Miss Schmid came primarily to interview the three local members of Mademoiselle College Board—Georgia Portmann, Betty Heiss, and Ruby Graham. After a tour of Bluegrass farms, she told the Board members that photographs for a future issue may feature bluegrass horse farms.

Rare Books On Display

The Library will show an exhibit of rare books from the collection of the late Judge Samuel M. Wilson and the library stacks in conjunction with the Foreign Language Conference to be held April 22 through April 24. The exhibit opens on April 16 and will continue for about a month.

Material featured by the exhibit will include foreign accounts of the exploration and settlement in Kentucky and in the Ohio River Valley. One German and two Swedish translations of the Kentucky author, Elizabeth Maddox Roberts, will be shown.

Other works to be on display will be translations of John Pilson's books on Kentucky into French and German, writings of John Adams Audubon and Constantine Rafinesque, of Constantinople, Turkey. Rafinesque was a teacher of French at Transylvania College. The earliest book to be presented was published in 1713.

Writings by F. A. Michaux, who was sent to this country by the King of France to study botanical conditions in this region, will be shown. Many authorities believe that Michaux's real purpose was to serve as a spy for the French government.

A rare pamphlet published in 1800 giving an account of the flight of Mme. and M. Mentelle from revolutionary France to the western wilderness will be exhibited. Mentelle Park of this city was named for them.

There will also be an interesting exhibit of posters of each language that is to be represented in the Conference.

In order to provide an educational program not confined to the College of Engineering and to keep in touch with the progress in industry, the student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers has outlined a program to include men in other departments of the University, prominent speakers in other universities, and outstanding men in industry.

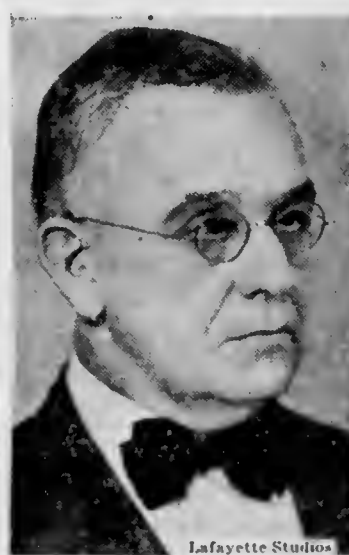

Prof. L. M. Sears of Purdue University spoke on the U. S. foreign policy last week. "The Progress in Aluminum" was the subject discussed by W. T. Brant of the Reynolds Metals Company, Louisville, April 15.

On April 22, the Society will see the movie, "Utility Unlimited," produced by the Bell Aircraft Corporation. Another movie, "Pigs and Progress," from the Reynolds Metal Company, will be shown April 29.

Webb Slated For Lecture

The annual address by the Distinguished Professor of the College of Arts and Sciences will be given at 7:45 o'clock Thursday night in Memorial Hall.

The address will be by Dr. William S. Webb who has been chosen by his colleagues as the distinguished professor of the year. Several years ago the College of Arts and Sciences began a policy of its faculty selecting the outstanding professor who in addition to the honor, received was given a quarter's leave of absence to do research.

Dr. Webb will report on "The Pre-History of Kentucky." Although he is generally thought of as a physicist, Dr. Webb has done considerable work in archaeology and will discuss this phase of his work.

The speaker's address will be the opening feature of the Foreign Language Conference being held on the campus next week.

Dr. Webb is head of the Department of Physics and the Department of Anthropology. Always popular with students, his classes are well attended, especially his physics lectures to non-physics majors. In these classes he attempts to tell a little about physics and give non-physics an appreciation of the natural laws of science operating in the world.

During the war he headed a committee that selected scientists to work for the government in developing the atomic bomb. He has done considerable work in studying the South for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

GI Checks Will Be Paid This Month

All veterans in school under the G.I. Bill of Rights last quarter will receive their checks at the end of this month, the University Veterans Affairs Office said Thursday.

Some confusion had been caused by a memorandum sheet handed every veteran during the registration process this week. Information on the sheets, said that checks would not be received for 60 days. This applies, the VA said, only to those students attending college under the bill for the first time.

Most of the misunderstanding was caused by the information sheet's use of the word "re-entering." Many veterans believed that inasmuch as they officially re-enter the University each time, they register and pay fees, the term applied to them. Veterans will not be required to take additional hours of academic work in order to qualify for the increase in subsistence pay, Robert W. Henderson, assistant director of personnel in charge of veterans affairs, said.

The announcement from Washington earlier this month of the "if" involved in the pay increase, which will become effective April 1, confused many students, according to Henderson.

Reportedly the Veterans' Administration will grant increases to the veteran only if he is a "full time" student or carrying a "full load." Interpreting this requirement, the University veterans' administrator said "12 quarter hours will be considered a 'full load' for the student veteran and, when the University adopts the semester system, a 'full time' student will be considered one who is taking 12 semester hours."

Twelve credit hours is the minimum academic load a veteran may carry in order to qualify for the new subsistence rate of $75 for an unmarried veteran without dependents, $105 for a married veteran or one with one dependent, and $120 for a veteran having more than one dependent.

Congress has approved the increases for students under the GI Bill of Rights to become effective on April 1, but veterans will not receive larger checks until the next pay period following, Henderson added.

Al Groza Voted 'Most Valuable'

Alex Groza, Kentucky's stellar center, received the Jerome Lederer trophy last Saturday night at the UK Alumni Association banquet as a result of being voted by his teammates as the "Most Valuable Player" on the squad. Last season, Captain Kenny Rollins was awarded the coveted trophy.

The banquet, honoring the Champion Wildcat basketball team, was attended by approximately 350 people who

More Honors
Another honor was bestowed on six Kentucky players Saturday night at the banquet. Larry Boeck, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, told the audience that the starting five for Wildcats this season—Jones, Groza, Beard, Rollins and Barker—were all selected on the first annual Courier-Journal All-Kentucky collegiate basketball team. Others making the 10-man first team selection were Dee Gibson, Western; Jack Coleman, Louisville; Chuck Mrazovich, Eastern; and Duck Ray and Ocie Stepp, both of Western.

Guid-Forward Dale Barnstable of the Wildcats was named on the second team.

Babe Kinnaman of the Lexington Herald, who presented the Lederer trophy, was one of the many sports-writers and sportscasters who spoke at the banquet. UK's sports publicist, R.C. Steinfort introduced the host of speakers, who praised the team's members and their marks of the past season.

The four seniors—Ken Rollins, Jack Parkinson, Dutch Campbell, and Jim Jordan—were each given wrist watches by the Alumni Association.

Letters were awarded to the following players: Alex Groza, Kenny Rollins, Ralph Beard, Cliff Barker, Joe Holland, Wah Jones, Dale Barnstable, Jim Line, Jack Parkinson, Jim Jordan and John Stough. Numeral receivers were: Roger Day, Garland Townes, Walt Hirsch, Bob Henne, Joe Hall, Bill Boggs and Joe Taylor. Team Manager Humzey Yesin was also given a letter.

Another "Most Valuable Player" award was presented to Groza. He received the medal voted him for being the outstanding player in the NCAA tournament in New York last month.

Athletic Director B. A. Shively also gave to Beard the True Magazine trophy for being named the "Outstanding Player in the Nation" by the National Association of Basketball Coaches. Jones, Groza and Beard were named to that magazine's All-American team.

did not perform too badly when it is considered that this was the first track meet in history for Marshall. Aside from that, Poling said that his men had been hampered in practice sessions because of inclement weather. Marshall's oval was underwater for the entire week preceding the cash with Kentucky. Endurance runner George Kirchner, Port Knox sophomore, was second in individual scoring for the Wildcats by registering 114 points—winning the 440-yard and the 880-yard runs and running the final lap of the winning mile relay.

Don "Dopey" Phelps, Danville sprinter, finished third in individual point-making with 11. He won the 100-yard and the 220-yard dashes and took third place in the broad jump.

NETTERS PLAY TPI TODAY

The UK tennis team left Thursday for Western State and day morning for Bowling Green, probably the best tennis player in Kentucky. Dee Gibson, in their first contest of the year.

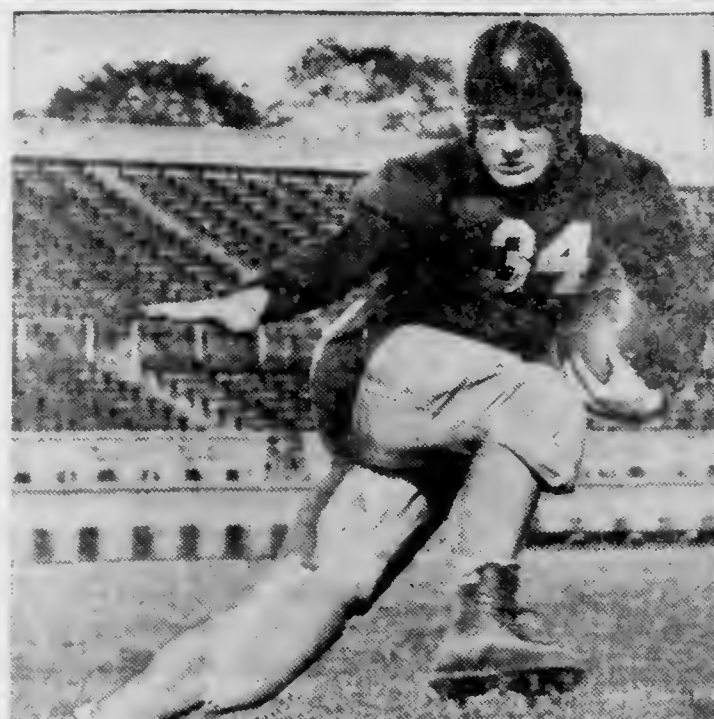

The Wildcat racketeers are scheduled to meet T.P.I. today, Vanderbilt Saturday, and to return home Sunday.

Veteran Dick Meadows was placed in the number one match to oppose Gibson and Danny Dickerson, showing much better form than he did last year, played in the number two position, Tommy Asbury, number 3 man, with an improved backhand, is making this his best year.

Footballer Jerry Claiborne, with only two days of tennis practice, displayed such form that Coach Ray Durham said he felt the team was greatly strengthened by the addition of Claiborne and placed him in the number four match.

Omar Tatum and Paul King fill the fifth and sixth spots with Elmer Reusch making the trip to play in one of the doubles contests.

Kentucky should roll over T.P.I. with little difficulty today, but the experienced Vanderbilt crew who have already played six matches, will probably take the Wildcats in a close one.

Blue-White Clash Ends In 13-13 Tie

By Dudley Saunders

A couple of Model T's clashed on Stoll Field Friday night, and when the wreckage had been cleared and the last bodies carried from the field of friendly strife, the scorekeepers got together, added up the score, and announced that the Blues had tied the White 13-13 in the annual spring intrasquad football game.

Although each team held a different advantage in statistics they were as evenly matched as the score. The Blues' George Blanda completed 17 out of 28 passes, and had only one of his tosses intercepted, compared to Carl Genito of the Whites, who completed four out of eleven and had three intercepted. All three of those Blue interceptions halted vigorous White drives.

The Blues racked up 17 first downs compared to nine for the Whites. Most exciting moments of the game were provided by Blanda's fine passing, Webb's lofty punts, Norman Klein's long and timely sprints, Dick Martin's pass-receiving, Jamerson's and Zaranke's receiving play at the terminals, and Bob Gain's rugged line play.

Good performances were far more plentiful in the backfield than in the forward wall.

Lewis, put together the best two rounds he has shot in competition to whitewash his opponent in both matches.

Marvin Lear came from far behind to win against Miami after shooting a 74 Friday while losing to Vanderbilt's basketball forward, Pete Robinson.

The Hicks brothers played only in the Miami match. Dick won by shooting a 75; Bill lost to Miami's No. 6 man, but shot a creditable 80.

Owens, playing in the No. 1 spot, shot a 75 against Vanderbilt to win his third consecutive match, but he was tied by Miami's Jack Steele the next day. Both had sub-par 71's.

Others who turned in capable performances were Bill Bolter, who might easily be one of the outstanding backs in the SEC next fall, hard-driving Shorty Jamerson, Bill Leskovar, and Lee Truman.

However, it was probably stocky little Norman Klein who played the best game in the backfield. Co-Captain of the White squad, Klein sprinted 66 yards in the second half to set up his team's second touchdown, and later in the game picked up better than 20 yards on three different runs. Although a scoring star before the war, Klein was used mainly as a defensive man last season.

Whites Score First

The Whites scored first on a pass from Carl Genito to Don Frampton that covered 54 yards. Gain's attempted conversion was blocked.

In the second quarter, Bolter tied it up and Blanda put the Blues in front 7-6 on the conversion. After exchanging the ball several times, the Whites got possession and Klein took off on several of his brilliant runs. Howe followed Klein's 66 yard run by moving the ball to the two yard line, where Shorty Jamerson punched over for the score. Bobby Brooks converted the extra point and the Whites led 13-7.

Leskovar Scores

Midway in the fourth quarter the Blues tied the score 13-13, on Leskovar's touchdown from within the ten yard line. Blanda missed the conversion and the Blues' chance for victory.

WILTED AND BEDRAGGLED
When hot weather descends upon us... is that the way you look and feel? Well, take heart, boys, because the day of suffering through the summer in the same suits or suit you wore all winter is gone forever... For a very low cost you can be immaculate and comfortable on those dress up nights (sharp too) in a lightweight, pastel shade summer suit... double or single breasted. These suits hold their crease and shape (amazing but true... I know, because I wore a couple all last summer). They are of such soft congenial colors... You can wear a multitude of various... double or single breasted suits... accessories giving you the appearance and feeling of an entirely different outfit. Darn practical and darn comfortable.

DALLAS PACES CINDERMEN IN MARSHALL MEET

By Winfield Leathers

Opening the local varsity track competition, Dr. Don (Cash) Seaton's Kentucky Wildcats showed great superiority in routing the Thundering Herd of Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va., 106-16, before a small crowd on Stoll Field last Saturday.

Jumpin' Tony Dallas, Paducah, set the individual scoring pace by racking up 15 points on victories in the high jump, 120-yard high hurdles and the 220-yard low hurdles. Dallas was the only white to cop three events as UK whitewashed the visitors from winning any of the 14 events.

The best Marshall's Big Green could do was pick up three seconds and seven thirds. The Thundering Herd, coached by Luther Poling,

Oval Meet Saturday

In a double-dual meet slated to get underway at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on the UK oval Kentucky's varsity track and field performers will tangle with the Vanderbilt Commodores, from Nashville, Tenn., while the Wildcat freshman crew engages the varsity team of Union College, from Barboursville, Ky.

The two meets, which will be held simultaneously, is the first in a series of moves by the athletic department to increase student interest in the spring collegiate sports program and to bring track into something of the prominence now held by football in the fall and basketball in the winter.

Both of the University cinder teams have seen action once this season with the varsity, led by Tony Dallas, Don (Dopey) Phelps, and George Kirchner, having turned back Marshall College, 109-16, last Saturday and the freshmen, led by Harold Ziegler and Bob Fraiman, having routed Millerburg Military Institute, 95-30, the week before.

Settle Joins Baseballers As New Assistant Coach

By Kent Hollingsworth

Charles "Chuck" Settle, manager of Richmond in the Class B Piedmont league last season, has been named to the University as assistant baseball coach for this season.

Immediately popular with the players, Coach Settle really knows the "ins and outs" of baseball. He broke into organized ball as a catcher in 1941, with Riverside in the California State League, where he roomed with Frankie Baumholtz, present Cincinnati Red outfielder, and hit .342 for a sizeable first-year average. From there he went to Columbia, S. C., class B ball. In 1942 he started the season with the Birmingham Barons and roomed with Bobby Adams, now a Red second baseman.

Asked about Eddie Miller's mid-winter blow-off concerning Baumholtz, Adams, and Hutton, Settle mused, "Funny thing, I guess Miller was just burned about something. He said they were talking too much and not trying hard enough. Aw, that's not right. There's not a better boy in baseball than Baumholtz. Quiet, never complains, always trying. Adams is almost the same way. He shouldn't have said those things about those kids."

A regular for the Barons for half the '42 season, Settle was called into the Navy at the midpoint, and he finished the season with Mickey Cochran's Great Lakes team, where he shared catching duties with George Dickey, stellar White Sox receiver and brother of the famous Yankee, Bill Dickey.

On D-Day in France, Settle's ship was heavily attacked, and a near-by explosion knocked him into the water where he floated around unconscious for five hours.

His throwing arm was affected by the injury from the blast, making him periodically a "scatterarm." He says at times he can make beautiful pegs to the first baseman, aiming for second.

Settle started the '46 season as a regular with the Birmingham Barons but broke his ankle in the opening game. His contract was then bought up by the Cleveland Indians who optioned him to Baltimore in the International League. His ankle healed after half the season was over so he shared the catching chores with Sherman Lollar, present Yankee receiver, for the rest of the year.

Last year, the likeable 25-year-old piloted Richmond to third place in the Piedmont league.

"Chuck," as he prefers to be called, is a junior at Transylvania College this spring.

After graduation he plans to enter law school for three more years, managing professional teams during the summer. Then he'll enter the administrative end of baseball.

Kentucky was certainly fortunate in obtaining such a capable and likeable person to give baseball a much-needed boost in a football-basketball-minded school.

GOLFERS HEAD NORTH; BEAT MIAMI, VANDY

Kentucky's amphibious linksmen sharpened up their niblicks and putters on the local swamps this week for their annual invasion of the North.

The Kentuckians are primed for their skirmish with Indiana University at Bloomington this afternoon, since the Hoosiers are responsible for the lone black mark on the Wildcat slate to date.

The Cats tangle with Notre Dame's niblickers at South Bend Saturday. The Irish tied Kentucky's outstanding team last year in a three-way meet at Louisville.

The final engagement of the trip is a match with Xavier to be played Monday at Cincinnati.

Golfers Beat Miami

The local linksmen were victorious over Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, and Vanderbilt on the Country Club course last week, winning both contests by top-sided scores.

A newcomer, Ray Colton, played consistently well in his first matches and Kentucky No. 2 man, Bud

SPORTS

By Tom Diskin

Do you know why the Kentucky baseball team isn't playing schools like Murray, Eastern, Xavier, Georgetown, and Cincinnati this season like they did in 1947?

Well, it seems that the Southeastern Conference has finally decided to reorganize its baseball setup and give the sport a much-needed shot-in-the-arm. As a result UK will be busy playing Conference nines.

Under the new system, the SEC is now divided up into two divisions, the East and the West.

In the Eastern Division are: Kentucky, Georgia, Vanderbilt, Auburn, Georgia Tech, and Tennessee.

The Western bracket is made up of Tulane, Florida, LSU, Ole Miss, Alabama and Mississippi State.

14 Games Required
Each baseball team in the SEC must play at least 14 games among schools in their particular division.

For example, Kentucky will play each school in their bracket a four-game series, except Auburn for a total of 16 contests. Auburn was originally on the card but UK was forced to cancel that series scheduled several days ago because of miscellaneous reasons.

Playoff To Be Held
Early in June the winner of the Eastern Division will meet the Western champ (determined on a win-loss percentage basis) and the victor of this 2-out-of-3 series will be declared SEC champion and will automatically go to the Regional NCAA tournament to be held early in June at a site undecided at the present time.

NCAA Baseball Championship
Is June 24-26

Then the four Eastern U. S. Regional NCAA winners will play in a double-elimination series June 16-19. The winner of this tournament will take on the Western NCAA title-holder in a two-out-of-three collegiate "World Series." This meet will be held June 24-26.

Last year the Eastern playoffs were held in New Haven Conn., the Western at Denver and the finals (which was capped by the University of California nine) at Kalamazoo, Mich. California represented the West; Yale was the Eastern winner and NCAA runner-up.

The NCAA baseball tournament chairman, Coach John Kobs of Michigan State, said recently that "we're evaluating several sites being suggested for the regionals and the finals and hope to set the locations soon."

Baseball Boom Growing
The baseball boom is expanding almost as much as the price of cattle right now. Last year, for example, Lefty Curt Simmons, a Philadelphia high school pitching wizard, received the almost unbelievable sum of $65,000 as a bonus for signing with the Phillies of the National League.

SPIKED SHOE ORGANIZED

By Winfield Leathers

Richard Griffith, Paducah, was elected first president of the Kentucky chapter of the Spiked Shoe Society of the Southeastern Conference. The society was organized on the UK campus on April 1, with 10 charter members. The Spiked Shoe is an active fraternity for varsity track lettermen.

Other officers elected at the first installation were Claton Crutge, Lexington, vice president; William Young, Stanford, secretary; Tony Dallas, Paducah, treasurer. Besides the four officers the other six charter members are Johnny Melhaus, Lexington; George Kirchner, Fort Knox; Bob Drury, Cleveland; Bob Leininger, Lexington; Norman Moody, and Leonard Preston, Lexington.

With the formation of the Kentucky chapter the SEC roll call is complete since the other 11 schools had already organized their units. To be eligible for membership a candidate must first win his varsity track letter and then be elected by the active members.

Insignia for the UK members will be a gold track shoe with a raised blue-and-white "K" on the shoe tongue. According to the constitution "the general purpose of the Spiked Shoe shall be in all ways possible to increase, to foster, and to forward track as an amateur sport."

Specifically, the No. 1 aim is to improve sub-collegiate (high school) track 100 percent and thereby to improve the sport and spectator interest in it.

Organized first, in 1923, at Columbia University the society was slow to grow, but finally it came into its own and faded - in the early 30's, when all charters were revoked because of the dying interest.

The Spiked Shoe was revived, this time on a sectional basis, on May 17, 1947, at Birmingham, Ala. During the last 10 months the group has seen the idea catch on with amazing rapidity until now all 12 member schools of the SEC have an active chapter.

INTRAMURALS

By W. T. Perkins

Bill McCubbin's intramural softball program in trying to compete with the weather is losing ground. Rain won a complete shutout victory during the past week as no games were played.

All teams of the three leagues should check the schedule board at Alumni gym Monday for next week's games.

At the end of the regular season each league will play a round robin tournament. The four teams of each league with the highest percentage of wins over losses will be eligible to compete in the championship round.

The championship tournament will be a single game elimination type and the winner and runner-up will receive a trophy.

Tennis

Pairings for the singles and doubles tennis tournament have been posted at Alumni gym. Play will start in both divisions as soon as the courts dry out.

Interest is high this year as both singles and doubles have a record number of entries.

IM Trophies

The intramural program will award at the end of the spring quarter, a handsome 18-inch trophy for the team which has best exemplified the spirit of good sportsmanship not only in softball but each of the other athletic programs of intramural play during the school year.

As in the past trophies will also be given to the winners and runners-up in the softball competition.

Rules Unchanged

The softball rules governing the games this spring will be the same as last season. Therefore, the base line distance between bases will remain 55 feet instead of the 60 feet as under the new official rules that will be adopted by most leagues.

Baseballers Tangle With Vandy Today

By Kent Hollingsworth

The University of Kentucky baseball team will open their season against the Vanderbilt Commodores, today and tomorrow, probably wearing overshoes instead of baseball spikes.

The team has been rained off their field every day this week, the last batting practice session being held Saturday, prior to an intrasquad game.

The Whites won over the Blues, as Bob Marshall, Wah Jones, and Bob Hatchett yielded only three hits.

Hatchett faced only six men in his two-inning stint, striking out four, while the other two batters rolled out to the first baseman.

Allen Hamilton, with a bat in his hands for the first time this year, slammed a home run, a long fly to center, and walked in his three appearances at the plate.

Johnny Slough batted a triple against the right field fence and Bob Hatchett and Hunzey Yessin collected two baggers for the only extra base knocks of the game.

The Wildcats were forced to cancel their practice game with Transylvania on dark, cold, rainy Tuesday.

Eighteen baseball uniforms were issued Wednesday afternoon, prompting the remark by one of the players, "What about swimming trunks?"

Coach Moseley took over the baseball reins Tuesday, bringing with him from the football field, Allen Hamilton, Benny Zaranka, Ogden Thomas, Walt Yowarski, Don Pucci, Jim Stephens, Unis Saylor, Clayton Webb and Al Bruno, swelling the baseball squad to 32 members.

In today's game, Vanderbilt will probably start their big man on the mound, Jim Stephens, who won seven out of ten games last year, striking out 90 batsmen. Sophomore Bill Reagan will do the catching, basketball star Billy Joe Adeock might start on the pitcher's rubber in Saturday's contest, with Lefty Steve Harper used in relief.

For the Wildcats, Bob Marshall will open the season, with Bob back for Saturday's game. Buddy Clegg and Garry Buttermann will do the receiving, and reliable Wah Jones and George Wild will be ready for relief chores on the mound.

Vanderbilt has already beaten Illinois Normal twice, Georgia Tech twice, and tied Purdue 5-5 in seven innings in their five games this year.
